GOOD TEMPLAR AFFAIRS.

Meeting of Executive Committee of the Grand Lodge.

The executive committee of the grand lodge held its first meeting of the year grand counselor, I. L. Corby, 2440 7th street northwest. Grand Templar Russel presided. All the members of the committee were present. Several items of business referred from the grand lodge, recently in session were considered and disposed of. The plan January. Two meetings for conferring the degree will be held, the first in follows: S. W. Russell, G. C. T.; Mrs. Alvira Coggswell, G. V. T.; Mrs. Nettle Cole, G. C.; Mrs. J. R. Harrover, G. S. J. T., and Forrest Yowell, G. M.

During the discussion Mr. Russell re-marked the need of greater publicity of Good Templar work through the press, generally. Mr. Corby remarked the value of personal, individual temperance work, as of highest importance. Mrs. Coggswell, Mrs. Harrover and John C. Daly, G. T., referred to various ways and means for advancing the cause of total abstinence by work in the juvenile temple department. Mr. F. Yowell reported progress made by a com-mittee in Silver Star Lodge which is giving special attention to juvenile temple work. Mrs. Cole, a helper in Undine Juvenile Temple for many years, explained the methods of its veteran superintendent, Mrs. Emma F. Bishop, which have kept the temple on a self-supporting basis from the start. Grand Secretary Bryson made an exhibit of the status of the order throughout the jurisdiction, including the Philippine Islands. At the conclusion of the conference the host and hostess invited the members of the committee to the dining hall, where refreshments were served. Perseverance Lodge at its last regular meeting was largely attended. Chief Templar Daly presided. The business routine was followed by a double initiation, after which the program for the evening, arranged by Mr. Rolf, captain of Company A, was presented, Miss Tennyson, lleutenant of the company, calling the numbers. Responses were given as follows: Reading, J. W. Rollf; instrumental trio, Miss Beatrice Johnstone and Messrs. B. McDonald and J. COMPLETE INSPECTIONS.

Large Increase in Membership Shown -Delegates Elected to Department Convention.

Mrs. Lida Hart, department inspector, and Mrs. Lida Oldroyd, president of the Department of the Potomac, have concluded the round of inspections of the corps comprising the department. There are nine corps in the Department of the Potomac, one located in Anacostia, John A. Logan, and one, George U. Morris, located in Georgetown. The other seven are in Washington proper. Every corps in the department has increased in membership, according to the reports that have been made to the department president. The corps showing the largest percentage of gain is Lafayette. Thomas Corps shows the largest general gain in membership. Lincoln Corps is the largest corps in the department, having a membership of 163. Burnside has a membership of 153.

The department membership has shown a surprising gain. The corps have recruited their strength until the number in the department leaker arking a few votes of "high." partment lacks only a few votes of "high-water" mark. The largest number of mem-bers in good standing in the department was once 663, and was lingering about the 500 mark when Mrs. Oldroyd assumed the office of president. It is now 646, and, in Mrs. Oldroyd's spinion, will be much larger by the time the convention meets.

For the first time since its institution, the flag work is used in all the corps of the department. This Mrs. Oldroyd believes to be a distinct advance. It relieves the tedium of a somewhat monotonous ritualistic routine, she says, and gives brightness to the whole service. Mrs. Oldroyd finds that officers of the corps have very largely memorized the ritual.

Officers and Delegates. The following have been elected officers of the various corps named for the ensuing

George H. Thomas Corps has indorsed its first president. Mrs. Rosamond B. Meacham, for department president, the election to take place at the coming department convention. Four of the largest corps in the department, Lincoln, Lafayette, Morris and Thomas, have indorsed Mrs. Meacham's candidacy unanimously, and as there is no other candidate in the field Thomas Corps is of the opinion that Mrs. Meacham will be elected by acclamation. The installation of officers will take place early in January, in conjunction with the post installation. The installing officer will be Miss Maria L. Jordon of O. P. Turnbull, Mrs. Emma Mernoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Alexandria Edwards. Mrs. Edwards enjoys the disis a member of Lincoln Corps.

Installation in January. The installation will take place in January, and will be joint with Lincoln Post and public. It will probably take place in Grand Army Hall. Mrs. Annie W. Johnson, past department president, has been selected as installing officer.

Farragut Relief Corps has elected the following officers: President, Miss Emma Kib-bey; senior vice president, Mrs. Maggle Licanone; junior vice president, Mrs. Agnes Parker; treasurer, Mrs. Julia Roberts; lodge held its first meeting of the year chaplain, Mrs. Mary P. Ripley; conductor, Wednesday evening at the home of the Mrs. Clara Kalstrom; guard, Mrs. Sarah C. McDonald; delegate, Mrs. Fannie E. Pratt; alternate, Mrs. M. Bunyea.

George U. Morris Corps of Georgetown has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. J. L. Noble; senior vice president, Mrs. J. Gaskins; junior vice president, Mrs. V. L. Carrick; treasurer, Mrs. A. Hutchins; chaplain, Mrs. M. Walling; conductor, Miss G. Raab; assistant conductor, Mrs. E. Smith; color bearers, Miss M. Lee. Mrs. E. Waters, Miss F. Fowler and Mrs. M. Traver. The secretary for the ensuing year will be Mrs. Mary Thompson, who has served the corps so faithfully as president June, the last in November. Five delegates during the past year. The treasurer, Mrs. to the Anti-Saloon League were elected as Hutchins, is re-e-exted to serve a second

THE PURE FOOD BILL.

Adulteration Prohibited in the Measure Passed by the House.

The pure food bill was passed by the House yesterday afternoon by a vote of 72 to 21. As stated in The Star yesterday, the bill was made to apply also to the District of Columbia, and should it pass the Senate and become a law in its present form, the pure food law now in force in the District will be repealed by the new law, and the local pure food regulations will have to be revised to conform to the new provisions. The provision excepting the District from the operation of the law was stricken from the bill on motion of Mr. Underwood of Alabama. In explanation he said: Mr. Underwood's Argument.

"I am for this bill; I think it is a proper bill; but I believe that if this is a good bill, a just bill, a bill that will benefit the people of the country, then it is proper that such legislation should extend uniformly throughout the United States. Such a measure will be a benefit to commerce.

"When the shipper gets ready to put up his goods he does not have to find out what is the law of thirty-six different states to know how to ship them, but he know what the general law is and he can comply with that law. Now, why should we example the District of Columbia and make this exception? It may be the opening door to making other exceptions, and I think the committee by putting in this proviso are injuring a bill that otherwise is excellent, and I therefore move to strike it out." therefore move to strike it out. Mr. Hepburn made no objection to the amendment, and it was agreed to without

Provisions of the Bill.

The bill inhibits the introduction into any state, or territory, or the District of Columbia, from any other state, or territory, or the District of Columbia, or from any foreign country, or to ship to any foreign country, any article of food or drug which is adulterated or misbranded; and the inhibition against any one shipping, delivering, or receiving within the regions named any such food so adulterated. Adulterations in the bill are defined as follows: In the case of drugs, if sold when under a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopoela, it differs from the standards of strength, quality or purity, as determined by the test laid down in such pharmacopoela official at the time of the investigation; if its strength or purity fall below the professed standard under which it is sold; if it be an imitation of, or offered for sale under the name of another article, and in the case of a confectionery, if it contain terra alba, barytes, talc, chrome yellow, or other mineral substances, or poisonous colors or flavors.

In the case of food: Any substance mixed with it so as to lower or injuriously affect its quality or strength so that such product, when offered for sale, shall tend to deceive the purchaser.

BENEFIT OF HOTEL GUESTS.

Commissioners Considering Question of Permits to Licensed Liverymen. The District Commissioners are considering the question of allowing carriages from licensed livery stables to stand near hotels for the accommodation of guests. The Cab and Carriage Drivers' Union, through D. W. Baker, attorney, has protested to the Commissioners against granting this special privilege to livery stable carriages, and denying it to the regular cabs of the street. Major Sylvester, the chief of police, has suggested that a public hearing be granted on the subject, to which all the parties interested may be invited.

In his report upon the matter Major Sylvester says no hack stands have been designated in front of the several hotels in recent years, but that carriages from licensed livery stables have occupied space within call of the hotel entrances. says the proprietors maintain that these equipages are engaged by them exclusively for their guests, which they say is neces-sary in the conduct of their business. He says the hack inspector, under instructions from headquarters has made efforts to hire these carriages in the same way that pub-lic licensed vehicles are hired to carry passengers. The object of this was to secure violations of the regulations and make cases in the Police Court. The effort for the most part has falled. When the proposition was made to the hotel people that the carriages could be called by telephone from the stables, Major Sylvester says he is met with the objection that the delay incident to such a method would provoke dissatisfaction on the part of strangers and others living in the hotels.

OIL'S PRICE SOARS.

Standard Company Seizes Opportunity to Increase Dividends.

Again the price of oil has been advanced. The Standard Oil Company yesterday raised the figure for refined kerosene to jobbers one cent a gallon, making the prevailing price ten and one-half cents, the highest the commodity has reached in more than twenty years. Those who control the output of oil have been quick to seize the opportunity to squeeze the consumers. Conumption of oil for heating and illuminating purposes has increased enormously owing to the scarcity of coal. In a corresponding ratio the price has been advanced by the Standard Oil Company two cents since the beginning of the anthracite coal trou-

There is no telling how far the price will be advanced in the near future. Oil has proved a substitute for coal as fuel on steamships and locomotives, and a new market has thus been created that has made the Oil Trust, which controls eighty per cent of all the petroleum produced in this country, more independent and powerful than ever before. Retail consumers have increased greatly in the last few months, oil being used for heating and cooking in many households. Improved oil stoves and heaters were sold in great num-bers recently by the Standard Oil Company, which did not fail to grasp the chance of increasing its retail trade, owing to the lack of coal and the inability of dealers to supply a sufficient number of gas stoves to meet the demand. There was a chorus of complaints yesterday from householders all over the city when grocers and street dealers'demanded from thirteen to fourteen cents a gallon. It is only three weeks since the price to job bers was raised a cent a gallon, and the price paid by consumers jumped to 12½ and 13½ cents. With oil at 10½ cents to jobbers, it is estimated that the resulting increase in the income of the Standard Oil crease in the income of the Standard On Company is no less than $16,000,000 annual-ly on sales in this country alone. General and Personal Items From the West End.

It is reported that some differences of opinion have arisen among those persons interested in the project of raising funds for the purpose of purchasing an ambulance for the use of the Georgetown University Hospital, and in consequence the matter has been temporarily laid aside. Diversity of ideas as to how the funds to carry out the project should be raised is said to have been the basis of the disagreement.
